

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVIII.

STANFORD KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1891.

NO. 102

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

Among the greatest of the Union Generals, who figured in the late war, Grant, Sherman, Thomas and Sheridan were the most conspicuous. The death of Gen. Sherman removes the last of these distinguished soldiers.

The action of the people in these latter days is well calculated to discount the average political charlatan, and to teach him the important lesson that "Promotion cometh neither from the East nor from the West, nor from the South. But God is the Judge; he putteth down one and setteth up another."

Says Mr. Strauss, in the con. con. "Go and read the history of the Roman Empire." Good idea, Mr. Strauss. We will proceed to do so. There is ample time between this and the adjournment of the convention to read the history of the Roman Empire and several other empires. The people who pay the taxes are not usually impatient and they have plenty of time to read and study history, both ancient and modern—especially modern. They have learned much in the last five months, and some lessons that will be serviceable when they are next called upon to select public servants to represent them in conventions and the like.

It is very much to be regretted that the "Star-eyed Goddess" has been coquetting with the dashing Jerry Simpson and has promiscuously with the "Socksless Statesman" in the capital of the Nation to the extent of a column and a half in the Courier-Journal of the 16th. If the goddess is willing to keep company with one who dedicates the common usages of society as well as the ordinary rules of gentility, she should nevertheless remember the old adage, that,

"Birds of a feather,
Will flock together,"
and that poor Dog Tray received an unmerciful pounding by being caught in bad company. The worst feature in the case is, the goddess selected those she considered the most unworthy of our public servants and all of the opposite political party to which she belonged, to present to her bonny, thereby depriving the fascinating Jeremiah of the pleasure he might have derived from the cultivation of the acquaintance of those she regarded as men of merit. Naughty Miss Goddess!

The Newark, New Jersey, grammar school has been voting upon the question as to who is the greatest living man. James G. Blaine and Edison seem to have received the greatest number of votes. Various reasons are given for their opinions, but the following is thought to be a "knock-down."

"According to my opinion the greatest man is he who is the most honest and kind-hearted, he who sacrifices himself for his beliefs, whatever they may be. These men are very rarely respected in their time. They are thought fools because they are not understood by the people."

It is well that the scope of the question was not enlarged so as to take in those who thought they were the greatest living men. The number of pigmies who aspired to be giants, the tadpoles who were possessed with the belief that they had already developed into frogs, the jackdaws who imagined they were eagles; the political scrubs who attempted to fill the role of real statesmen would have been such as to astonish the natives and cause the originators of the question to shrink back at the vastness of a proposition so absurd, not to say ridiculous.

Bruce Price, a New York architect, proposes to erect a building 32 stories high, and which is to be 142 feet above the level of the ground. It is to be built of iron and steel. The height of the building will be about 150 yards. As steel is said to attract lightning, the man who occupies the 32d story had better keep himself enveloped in a feather bed or some other first class lightning protector. Some of the advantages of this sky-scraping residence will be pure air, seclusion from noise and dust and protection from pick-pockets and sneak thieves. The tops of the tallest trees in its immediate vicinity will be so far below the thirty-twos that the crowing of the venerable rooster will not be likely to disturb his morning slumbers. Nor will the mewing of the Thomas cat upon the adjacent wood pile mingle with his dreams so seriously as to interfere with his plans to get what little of the goods of this world there are in the possession of his neighbor. Lancaster wants a 32 story building, she needs a 32 story building and must have a 32 story building. This will enable her to look over into Stanford and all the adjoining towns and see what's going on without the trouble and expense of a visit in person.

A newspaper dispatch says: The sensational confession made by James Rose, charged with the murder of Andy Bird, last March, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, which implicated Leonard Scarborough, Sr., a prominent man in the Fall Lick neighborhood, this county, where the murder was committed, was not considered very important by his counsel and he was taken to Frankfort on the 17th by Sheriff Curtis Robinson, assisted by Deputy Wm. Lawson. In the confession Rose stated that through various promises made by Scarborough he had taken the murder of Bird upon himself, but that a 15-year old son of Scarborough had really done the awful deed. Eleven of the prisoners that convicted Rose favored hanging.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

Frank Mink died of congestion of the lungs last week.

Mr. Thomas Proctor is happy over the advent of a boy at his house.

Mr. R. A. Brown has resigned the position of agent at Sloan's Valley, on the C. & O., and accepted a position with the K. C. & A. L. at Middlesboro.

We were shown a sample of that valuable metal aluminum by Mr. Geo. Hallbrook. It is exceedingly light and said to have the tensile strength of three times its weight of steel.

Mr. W. J. Newcomb, a Mt. Vernon boy, who has been telegraphing for the Santa Fe road at Galveston for the last six years, has entered the commission business in the Island City, under the firm name of Winston & Co., he being the junior member.

Miss Dora Hart, of Marlinton, while on her way to church last Sunday had her horse to take fright at an approaching freight train. The animal whirled with her and ran up the track and in jumping over the rails at a crossing the rider was unseated and fell on the track in front of the engine. Mr. Francis Curtis, who was near the crossing, rushed up and pulled the helpless young lady from her dangerous position just before the engine reached her. It was a very close call.

Mr. W. M. Fish, circuit clerk, who has been confined to his bed for several months, was in town greeting his numerous friends Monday. Misses May and Ida Adams have rented out their residence here and have moved to Grays. We regret exceedingly to lose such excellent young ladies from our community, and the good wishes of their host of friends here accompany them to their new home. Little Mittie Adams is quite low with pneumonia. Mesdames W. L. and David Henderson are visiting the family of C. A. Bell, Sr., near Crab Orchard, who celebrates the 10th anniversary of his marriage to-day, Thursday.

Mr. B. J. Joplin is in from Pineville. Miss Ella Joplin has returned after an 18 months' visit to relatives in the West. Miss Lena Smith, a handsome young lady of Bell Fontaine, Ohio, is visiting Miss Letha Cook, a charming little lady who is attending school here. Mrs. Helen Brooks is visiting home folks here.

—Rev. W. Y. Sheppard will preach at Odd Fellows Hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Everybody invited.

—The meeting at the Winchester Methodist church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Means, has had 17 additions.—Democrat.

—Old David Stevens, the blind fiddler, well-known all over Kentucky, eloped to Jeffersonville with Jane Glachem, a woman with a wooden leg, and was married.

—The committee of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church has completed the revision of the Confession of Faith, and will report it to the Assembly next May.

—Rev. J. M. Evans, evangelist for the Southern Presbyterian Church of Kentucky for nine years, has been engaged by the Greenbrier Presbytery, of West Virginia, to labor in that section at a salary of $150 a month. The recent successful meeting at Charleston was the first under his new engagement.—Paris Kentuckian.

—At Hayworth, Ill., an organ was introduced in the Christian church against the protest of many of the members. It was used for the first time last Sunday, but it won't furnish any more music. That night a body of masked men took it in the street and filling it with straw, set it afire, its charred and ruined remains being only left to tell the tale.

—Rev. John Bell Gibson tells us that one of the largest religious gatherings ever held in this section will be at the Christian church here in June. The State Sunday-School Convention of that Church, which has 90,000 members in Kentucky, will assemble with its 400 delegates and a big time is expected. All the prominent Sunday-school workers and other noted men will be in attendance.

—The Philadelphia Times calls attention to the rapid disappearance of our representative old men. Few of the old presidential cabinets remain. With Bancroft went the last of the Polk Cabinet, and with A. H. H. Stewart, of Virginia, the last of that of President Fillmore. Until the death of Jefferson Davis there were two survivors of the Pierce Cabinet. One now remains, James Campbell, of Philadelphia, who was appointed Postmaster General from Tennessee.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Assure Grover Cleveland that the West End is in hearty accord with his late voluntary letter on the Silver question.

—Mrs. Sallie Bailey, mother of Spire John Bailey, was buried in the Hustonville cemetery last week. Mrs. B. was extremely old, nearly 90, and had worn out in a useful and charitable career. Charlie Moran died of pneumonia, at Smileyville, in Casey, last week.

—We have a few ancient citizens in this end whose memory goes back to revolutionary times—John Dry and Bill Reid being widowers will not give exact figures, but Mr. Peterson Tibbs undoubtedly owns up to 91 and is an active, well-preserved man mentally and physically.

—John Badget, hearing of John Good's escape with a mule, showed that he could get a seal better by taking a header from top of a wagon load of 20 bales of hay into the tongue between two miles and under the wagon, both wheels passing over both his legs and one arm, and John was back on that load and in control of his team as quickly as a squirrel could have sealed a tree.

—The Weatherford Hotel was knocked off to Billy Weatherford last Saturday at $2,825.50 and will be run by Mr. Caleb Brown, of Liberty, and Billy Weatherford, of Richmond. Work is being rushed by Mr. Steele and his hotel will soon be thrown open to the public. It is not improbable that another hotel will be opened, and the toady drinkers are jubilant in prospect of bigger tumbler and the oldest liquors that can be found in the markets.

—We are sorry to tell you that your especial favorite of the 11th Congressional district, The Little Red Hog, is in bad odor with his constituency here in consequence of declining to tote fair with our enumerators. Henry Camnitz, because Porter repudiated the Red Hog's contract and Henry is out $40.02 on work as faithfully and efficiently performed as ever employee could boast. Henry's only solace in the setup is Porter's assurance that enumerators could afford to work for less than the L. R. is contracted to pay.

—Rev. A. C. Hopkins, State Sunday-School Missionary, entertained the town and neighboring schools at the Christian church from Friday to Sunday night inclusive, with a series of most entertaining lectures, sermons and stereoscopic views. What good came of his work, supplemented with the active assistance of our untiring laborer in the vineyard, J. B. Green, is evidenced by a census of the schools last Sunday: Christian 133, Presbyterian 46, Baptist 23, which attendance is in ratio to the respective church memberships.

—Tone Hurn was in the suburbs of Hustonville, near your village, last week fishing for suckers. He bought four fancy looking horses, which he will soon develop into fancy ones indeed under saddle and in shafts. He says he caught no suckers. Col. Breckinridge and Scott McFerran, of Danville, were in town last week. Maj. Mat Adams, Secretary of State, was here Saturday visiting his sister, Mrs. White, and her daughter, Mrs. Carpenter. A. H. Maddox, of Delaware, Ohio, was in town last week stocking up the dealers with a variety of buggy whips. Mrs. William Humphrey, Miss Julia Myers, Caleb Brown, M. K. Humphrey, M. D., and George Stone, attorney, all of the State of Casey, were here last week. Spill Carpenter and wife were up from Somerset on a flying visit and stayed over Sunday. Miss Denton, of Garrard, is at her sister's, Mrs. Sam Runt. Mr. George R. Bohon, of Decatur, Ill., is in Kentucky recuperating and took in Hustonville last Thursday, spending a couple of days with his cousin, John Bohon. Carroll Reid and W. H. Hoeker (Bub) were up from Danville visiting the old folks last Sunday. Spears Fisher, of Yosemite, was in town Wednesday, but not gathering evidence to be used in establishing that he is a twig of the Fisher tree, entitled (?) to a big estate in Europe, which has long been accumulating millions for the American heirs, properly identified. He says that Nall is not ashamed by the wild shot he made in predicting fine, dry weather for the first three months of '91, but still guesses—wid of the mark. The bulletin board for two days last week announced that one of our best boys would return from Harrodsburg last Sunday or Monday with one of her belles to henceforth superintend his domestic affairs, but the announcement was premature. We cordially recommend him to our Harrodsburg girls. Our old timer, James Woodson, of Honey Grove, Texas, since '54, was again with us last week, this time on a dear hunt. The Colonel is a hoy widower of 73, who has just about rounded the half-way post and is determined to have a Kentucky girl of 40 to 60, as mate to the finish. Reference is made to Cole Carpenter for particulars of the Colonel's last "deer" in Kentucky.

—The Senate passed the copyright bill 36 to 14.

—Governor Hill is reported as saying with respect to Mr. Watterson's professional friendliness for him: "That may be so. I never saw his newspaper. I never noticed any clippings or comments in the newspapers from the Courier-Journal on that line." The intent of this, unquestionably, was to belittle Mr. Watterson and his newspaper and to question Mr. Watterson's sincerity. To say that he has never seen the Courier-Journal is a confession on the part of Governor Hill of very limited reading. He ought to subscribe for it and learn something about "peanut politics."—Owensboro Messenger.

—Married, in Preachersville, on the 18th, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Louise Holtzclaw, Mr. William Lawrence, a widower, of White Oak neighborhood, and Miss Nannie Holtzclaw, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives. The attendants were Mr. J. W. Anderson and Miss Mollie Crockett, Mr. Wm. Holtzclaw and Miss Mary Elmore. The ceremony was performed in an elegant and impressive manner by Rev. W. J. Holtzclaw, of the First Baptist church, Jeffersonville, Ind., brother of the bride. An excellent supper was served to the invited guests.

—The presents at the Astor-Willing marriage are said to have aggregated $2,000.00 in value.

—Mr. W. K. Watson, of Garrard, and Miss Nellie Blackerby were married at Mrs. Catherine Blackerby's Tuesday.

—Mr. W. E. Lawrence, a widower, and Miss Nannie J. Holtzclaw, a maiden, were united in marriage at Mrs. Louise Holtzclaw's on the 18th.

—John Jacob Astor weds Miss Eva Willing, of Philadelphia, to-day, and when the young man's bank account is considered, there is no reason to believe he could have found Eva willing in a half dozen other cities.—Louisville Times.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Mr. J. R. Bailey received a telegram to come to Richmond at once; no particulars were given. He left on the early morning train for that place.

—The firms of J. R. Bailey and Chadwick & Edmiston have consolidated. The drug store and general merchandise are in one house. The style of the new firm is Chadwick, Bailey & Co.

—Fire broke out in one of the upper rooms of Mr. William Stuart's residence on Lancaster avenue Monday night. The fire was discovered in time to save the building, but too late to save a chair and a handsome satin dress belonging to Miss Bettie McFall. Miss Rebecca had the nerve to hoist a window and throw the burning articles out, and then she gave the alarm. No further damages were sustained. The fire cannot be accounted for.

—We are glad to see Mr. John Higgins out again. He was confined to his room about six weeks. D. B. Edmiston has gone to Louisville to buy goods for the new firm. Miss Nellie Yantis has returned from a lengthy visit to her sister in Atlanta, Ga. Mrs. J. H. Hutchings is visiting relatives near Stanford. Mrs. H. L. Steger will leave for Georgetown to-morrow to visit her daughter, Miss Lear, and to attend the celebration of the 22d by the College and Seminary students.

—Married, in Preachersville, on the 18th, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Louise Holtzclaw, Mr. William Lawrence, a widower, of White Oak neighborhood, and Miss Nannie Holtzclaw, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives. The attendants were Mr. J. W. Anderson and Miss Mollie Crockett, Mr. Wm. Holtzclaw and Miss Mary Elmore. The ceremony was performed in an elegant and impressive manner by Rev. W. J. Holtzclaw, of the First Baptist church, Jeffersonville, Ind., brother of the bride. An excellent supper was served to the invited guests.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—The presents at the Astor-Willing marriage are said to have aggregated $2,000.00 in value.

—Mr. W. K. Watson, of Garrard, and Miss Nellie Blackerby were married at Mrs. Catherine Blackerby's Tuesday.

—Mr. W. E. Lawrence, a widower, and Miss Nannie J. Holtzclaw, a maiden, were united in marriage at Mrs. Louise Holtzclaw's on the 18th.

—John Jacob Astor weds Miss Eva Willing, of Philadelphia, to-day, and when the young man's bank account is considered, there is no reason to believe he could have found Eva willing in a half dozen other cities.—Louisville Times.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

—Mrs. Bertram Spratt, an old and highly respected lady of the Walnut Flat neighborhood, died Tuesday and was interred in Buffalo Cemetery next day, a large number of friends following the remains thither. Her husband died only a year or so ago.

—We are requested to state that Conductor Robert L. Davis, of the L. & N., who died Sunday night, was from Buchanan, Va., and was the son of C. M. Davis, of that place. Newspapers of that section will oblige the widow by noticing the death. Capt. Davis was a splendid railroad man and a nice gentleman in every respect.

Teachers' Association.
The following is the programme for Friday, Feb. 27, 7 p. m., in the Baptist church, at Stanford:
Prayer—Elder George Hunt.
Our Schools and Their Needs—Opened by W. F. McClary.
Whither Are we Drifting?—J. H. Allen.
Essay—Miss E. C. Thurmond.
Mistakes in Teaching—G. U. Fry.
Has Nature or Education the Greater Influence in the Formation of Character?—All, R. Lee Davis. Neg., Prof. J. W. Smith.

All friends of education and educators are expected to be present and are cordially invited to take part in the discussions. We wish to say to the people of Stanford and vicinity that you are expected to be there and encourage us in the work of the association, which is rapidly growing in interest and is ere long to be one of the indispensable of the educational system.

Miss Alice Stuart, J. A. Chaprell, Committee.

Choice Blue-Grass Farm

FOR SALE.

I will sell privately, at a bargain, my farm at Crab Orchard, Lincoln county, Ky. This farm formerly known as the Jacob (Guest) home-stead, contains 280 Acres Excellent Land, in prime condition, and well improved, lying partly in the heart of the town of Crab Orchard, on the L. & N. R. R.

The farm is divided nearly equally by the pike leading S. W. from town, there being 175 acres on the East side on which is the main house, a large, roomy and well-built brick of 7 rooms, besides kitchen, servant's house, stable, etc., and on the West side 105 acres, which has also a comfortable frame residence, out-houses, etc.

I will sell the place as a whole, or if desired will sell either of the tracts singly. Either will make an elegant and comfortable home, convenient to schools, churches, good turnpikes and the railroad.

Persons desirous of inspecting the place will be shown over it by James Hays, now residing on Danville, Ky. For terms apply or address me at Danville, Ky.

44-U.

W. P. WALTON.

Mr. WATTERSON says in an interview that he does not see how we can get away from Cleveland. He seems to represent the situation. His anti silver letter was not opportune. The sentiment in favor of free coinage in the South and West is so strong that the view he has taken of the matter may serve to imperil his chance for the nomination, but that is only a possibility. He believes he will be nominated. Certainly, in default of that letter, there would have been no shadow of a doubt about it. In the event of Cleveland's nomination, Mr. Watterson thinks that either Gov. Gray, of Indiana, or Gov. Boies, of Iowa, will be given the second place.

JUDGE BELDEN, whom our people will remember comes up here every time there is any speaking to be done for the republicans, was tried before Judge Barr, of the U. S. Court at Louisville, this week, for taking a fee of $340 from Sarah Hundley, a colored woman, for getting a pension for her, when the law only allows $10. He is also charged with securing $250 from another colored man. The judge tried to show that the excess was intended by the woman as a present to his wife and there was sufficient doubt to cause the jury to hang. The judge was then released on $600 bail and will have to face the music again this fall.

SENATOR GRAY, in a speech delivered for the benefit of the newspapers, denied all the serious charges that have from time to time been brought against him, but advanced no proof to support his statements. The charges against him have all been made by reliable and responsible men and newspapers and their falsity could have better been shown before a court of justice in a suit for slander. The senator may think he has refuted what he terms malicious persecutions of him by his own unsupported word, but there's where he makes a mistake. Most people will believe him more guilty now than ever.

It is stated that while the jury in the Duncan case at Lexington was wrestling with the verdict, it was suggested by a pious brother that they "take it to the Lord in prayer." The suggestion was immediately adopted and after a devout appeal to the throne of grace, the members arose from their knees and found a verdict of death. Let other juries follow this good example and they will find an answer to their petitions that the Lord has said, "He who sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed."

Gov. McCREARY is dead set against any subsidy. The doubtful bill to subsidize the Hawaiian cable, authorized by the Senate, was before the House this week and in speaking against it the governor said among other things: "The republicans have subsidized railroads. They are trying to subsidize steamships. Now, having subsidized various things on land and water, they propose to go under the water to find something to subsidize."

The largest general deficiency bill ever reported is now before the House. It calls for nearly 37 millions of dollars, nearly $20,000,000 of which are for pensions. The republicans are going to have an up-hill business explaining their extravagance and the people will be more determined than ever to return to an honest government economically adulterated.

They may be virtuous and happy down in Ellaville, Ga., but they don't see much fun. It is stated that there is not a young man in the town who gets drunk, there is not a young lady in the place who dips snuff or indulges in other bad habits and there is not a family in the place who lives by buying on credit. In fact it is a veritable heaven on earth.

The democrats and alliance members of the South Dakota legislature combined on Rev. James H. Kyle and elected him U. S. Senator to succeed Moody. He is a Congregational preacher, independent in politics, with democratic leanings and is 37 years old. His election is a decided black eye for the republicans.

According to the census reports Lee county, Fla., is the healthiest section in the Union. In a population of 1,475 there were but 10 deaths last year and three of those were caused by drowning. When a man wants to die there he actually has to move to another locality before he can do it.

SENATOR STANFORD, who hoped to win the alliance nomination for president by his bill for the government to loan money on farm property at 2 per cent., was knocked out in the first round. The committee adversely reported the wildcat scheme.

The Woman Suffragists were given a black eye by the Kansas legislature, which defeated the bill giving them the right to vote. Score two for the body—refusing Ingalls and sitting down on the short-haired women.

—Mr. Wilson was the only Kentucky representative who had the gall to vote for clerks for Congressmen.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

—On motion of Mr. Miller the committee on style has been put to work, getting things in shape.

—The corporation report provides that no common carrier can consolidate with a competing line or pool earnings and that foreign corporations shall not be favored above home institutions. A bitter fight was made to make stockholders personally responsible, but it was defeated.

—There were only 11 reports considered in five months and these are yet to be acted upon: Legislative department, railroads and commerce, executive offices for counties, education, charity and charitable institutions, general provisions, location of the capital, schedule, style, titles and arrangements. At the rate it has been going August will find the body in session.

—The attendance on the constitutional convention grows smaller day by day with the result that there is less talk, less opposition to any kind of proposition, and, apparently, more accomplished. If some one would move an amendment to the rules making 25 a quorum, it is believed the constitution, such as it is, may be finished by July 1. It seems now as difficult to get a quorum of 52, as it was a few weeks ago to get a quorum of 65, and the people are no longer taking the body very seriously. —Courier-Journal.

—After completing the corporation report, the legislative was taken up. Chairman Spalding explained the main features, which are the reduction of the legislature to 60 representatives and 30 Senators and the inhibition of local and special legislation. He said these changes will not only greatly increase the efficiency of the system, but will effect a saving of about $100,000 on each session of the legislature. There are 50 sections and one of them has 28 sub-sections. There was pretty plain sailing till the reduction of members was reached when a snag was struck and it is safe to say the number of representatives will not be changed, the more's the pity.

NEWSY NOTES.

—There are two negroes on the U. S. grand jury at Louisville.

—Wash Vance, a murderer, and W. W. Weller, a forger, broke jail at Beattyville and escaped.

—The courage committee has decided to report the silver bill and it will be voted on next Saturday.

—It is estimated that high water has done damage amounting to $1,000,000 in Pittsburgh and Allegheny City.

—Conductor George Howe, of the C. S., was knocked from a train by the spout of a water tank and killed.

—Nineteen Italians are being tried separately in New Orleans for the assassination of Chief of Police Hennessy.

—E. M. Dickson has been nominated for the legislature by the Bourbon county democrats by 247 majority over Miller.

—The residence and barn of Mrs. Chinneryworth, near Somerset, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. Loss $15,000, with small insurance.

—Allen Thurmond, Jr., has been bounced from the presidency of the American base ball association on account of bad faith towards it.

—Four men at least were killed and a number of others wounded in the Moyer mine in Pennsylvania by the explosion of a lamp which set the mine afire.

—An Illinois Central passenger train jumped the track near Medina, Tenn. All the cars except one burned, but no one killed; about 20 were wounded.

—Tehama County, in California, paid out $195 for scalps in December. The lot included 5 lions, 108 coyotes, 63 wildcats, 1,952 rabbits, 53 crows, 10 bears and 2 eagles.

—Gov. Buckner has pardoned the Jessamine County Fair Association, indicted at the last term of the Jessamine circuit court for permitting gaming on the grounds.

—Wm. Hendershot, a brakeman on the Kentucky Union road, had both legs crushed and skull fractured by falling between the cars Monday, and died in a few hours.

—There is a tremendous rise in the Ohio river and its tributaries and much damage is being done. The river was 42 feet at Cincinnati, but it is thought that the worst is over.

—The Kentucky Women's Confederate Monument Association has raised $6,000 toward the monument fund. A site will be selected and the corner stone probably laid in May.

—A large rock rolled down the mountain side on a passenger train on the Pan Handle road and crushed a car killing one young lady and wounding a number of other passengers.

—Hon. John Bennett and Collector A. R. Burman left for Washington to join Representative McCreary in urging upon President Harrison the necessity of a government building at Richmond.

—There were 300 Knights present at the Phantom Lodge, K. P., celebration at Lexington and they had a royal time. Marches, a banquet and some excellent lodge work were features of the occasion.

—It seems hard to hold a member in the 12th Ohio legislative district. Three elections have been held for a Senator during the present legislature, two within a month, to fill vacancies occasioned by death.

—St. Louis is now the largest far market in the United States. At a recent sale of pelts in that city more than a million skins of the coon, muskrat, skunk, mink, gray fox and opossum were disposed of.

—Near Marathon, Tex., two men got into a dispute about a calf. One killed the other. The deputy sheriff then killed the murderer and was himself shot in the leg. Two horses were also killed in the duel.

—In Kansas 35 banks have gone into liquidation since Dec. 1. The people won't borrow money during the unsettled money condition and couldn't get it if they would. Lenders are calling in every dollar possible.

—A fire at Columbia destroyed eight buildings and most of their contents. E. Willis & Son lost their general store, Dr. J. M. Page his drug store, Griffiths his grocery and Lyons & Co., groceries and furniture and several fine buildings were burned.

—Charles Moore, who was deputy clerk in Hardin county and was indicted in 12 cases for forging claims against the State of Kentucky, was captured in Texas. He was going by the name of Wm. Hopkins and gave himself away by his continual horse talk.

—A woman, named Stevens died in childbirth at the depot on Sunday, in one of the K. C. cars used for sleeping purposes by the hands on the work train. The child was still-born. The woman left several children and they were sent to the poor house. —Richmond Climax.

—The steamer Sherlock struck a pier of the C. & O. bridge at Cincinnati and sank. She had about 20 passengers and a crew of over half a hundred men. Most of the passengers were rescued from the floating wreck and nearly all of the crew succeeded in getting ashore. Two of the registered passengers are known to have perished. The boat was one of the largest running between Cincinnati and New Orleans.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Miss Maggie Swinewood is visiting Miss Mary Bright.

Mr. Wicks Hinton, of Laurel, was down to see his mother this week.

Rev. Ben Hensley has gone to Lexington to attend a meeting of the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Jane Baidow asks us to thank the good Baptist sisters for a nice surprise.

Mr. J. T. Hendricks, of Louisville, has been visiting his father, Mr. J. M. Hendricks.

Miss Wm. Leber was called to Louisville yesterday by the illness of her son's wife.

Miss Mattie Williams, of Mt. Vernon, is with her schoolmate, Mrs. E. W. Smith, at Col. Hill's.

Messrs. P. W. Gibbs, J. P. and C. L. Crow, Knights of Pythias, attended the celebration at Lexington.

Mr. J. W. Bigham and wife were called to Middlesboro by the illness of their mother, Mrs. Jennie Bright.

Mr. L. Hawkins, a prominent engineer on the Richmond and Danville railroad, is the guest of Mr. Bailey Hill.

Capt. James Croft, who used to run on this division, had his left foot cut off at Cecilia Junction, by the cars this week.

Miss Nannie Walter and W. C. Walter, of Stanford, are visiting their brother, Dr. B. E. Walter, - Winchester Democrat.

Mr. E. S. Hendrick, chief time keeper of the L. & N., was the guest of Mr. J. T. Waller, Master of Machinery at Rowland.

Miss W. H. Walker, Ed. Jones and E. C. Walton, of Thaden Lodge, attended the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Knights of Pythias at Lexington and report a big time.

Mrs. Maggie W. Carpenter was here yesterday arranging to sell her personally, which consists in part of much goat horse and other stock, March 13. She thinks of going West, was regret to say.

Dr. H. I. Fry, who has been here for a year, went up to Kirksville yesterday with a view of leaving. The doctor is a clever gentleman and a good doctor and we bespeak for him a kind reception and a share of patronage in his line.

The Bloomington, Ill., Eye has this to say of a little Stanford favorite: Miss Jennie Hughes, who was formerly with A. & R. Livingston, was in the city. Miss Hughes is one of the few ladies who number among the successful traveling salespeople. She represents a leading cloak house and her big sales privilege her to a handsome salary.

Mr. E. C. Walton left Wednesday to visit his sister, Mrs. I. N. Vaughan, and other relatives in Richmond, Va. Worn out with a long siege on the delinquent subscriber and other slow debt payers, he yearns for a more agreeable occupation, but we hope that after a good rest, which he has so faithfully earned, he will return in better shape than ever to renew the fight in which he has always been so gratifyingly successful. There never was a more loyal brother nor a more unflinching laborer for the advancement of the Interior Journal and the paper could do about as well without its type and presses as without him.

CITY AND VICINITY.

The 12 shares of First National Bank stock, advertised by Miss Ida M. Adams, were bought by S. H. Baughman at $110.

The Ergonian Literary Society, of Carroll College, will celebrate Washington's birthday in an appropriate manner. The exercises will be in the college chapel Saturday, 21st, as the 22d falls on Sunday. An invitation is acknowledged for our absent brother.

W. M. Green, who was brought over here by the chief of police of Lexington, was tried before Judge Varnon for shooting at Mike O'Keefe a year or so ago at Rowland and fined $75 and costs, failing to pay which he went to jail. He admitted that he fired the shot, but said it was for the purpose of scaring O'Keefe and not to hurt him. O'Keefe failed to appear against him.

The cat of Mr. Boone failed to arrive and obituary is held till next issue.

The trustees of the Female College met yesterday and refused to permit boys to go to school there.

Marshall Henton, the detective, was here Wednesday trying to find out who stole some flour from the L. & N. cars at Rowland.

As Washington's birthday falls on Sunday, the banks and post-office will observe Monday, the 23d, and thereby get two holidays.

Just received a large assortment of purses and pocket books and the newest and most stylish designs in fine stationery. W. B. McRoberts.

The Hustonville Hotel, the entire of which was bought by W. D. Weatherford a few days ago, has been rented to Carl Brown, of Liberty, for this year. Possession will be given about March 15th.

A Thorough Cleaning.—Mr. A. R. Penny, who has charge of the town clock, will give it a thorough cleaning on the next warm, clear day. The clock will of course be stopped for the time, but it can be reset on afterwards.

The auction at S. S. Myers was a big drawing card for the ladies, who gathered in full force. Some things sold higher than the regular price, but as a general thing the figures obtained were lower. It is rumored that Mr. Myers will go to Louisville to live, but we hope not.

Carroll.—Sid Lewis, who murdered his father, Judge Lewis, in Harlan county, was captured at Rogersville, Tenn., on a reward of $200. We are opposed to such law on general principles, but if it ever is justifiable, it seems that it would be in the case of this miserable paricide.

A Talking Tree.—Mr. R. L. White says there is a large hollow sycamore tree standing on the banks of the Hanging Fork, on the lands of Greenberry Bright, that makes a muffled sound during a strong western wind that imitates the human voice so nearly that anyone could be deceived thereby.

Finding that the store-room occupied by them was inadequate for their business, the firm of Severance & Son has secured the consent of its owner, Mr. B. Van Arsdale, to deepen it by building at the back. An addition of 25 feet, as they propose to make it, will give them one of the finest business houses in this section. They will also add greatly to their stock.

Good News to Him.—From his retreat in the St. Louis jail, Wm. Howard tells a Republic reporter that Judge Lewis, of Harlan, met the death he deserved and leaves behind few friends to mourn. The trouble between father and son, so Howard says, grew out of the fact that the judge's father gave all of his property to Sidney. The judge wanted to get hold of the money to use it in capturing Howard and the boy refused, as he and the outlaw were always special friends and kept him posted on his father's plans and intentions. If this is true the young scoundrel is a traitor as well as a paricide and another reason is added for the immediate taking of his life. Howard says that Sidney is very popular and will never receive punishment for his deed.

Assassin.—At the meeting of the Odd Fellows Tuesday night all the stock for the purchase of the Commercial Hotel site and the erection thereon of a brick building to contain store-rooms, offices and a lodge-room, was subscribed and the following gentlemen chosen directors: J. N. Menefee, Jos. Severance, T. M. Bruce, J. A. Allen, J. B. Paxton, T. L. Shelton, A. C. Sine. The lodge will invest $1,500 of its orphan's and widows' fund in the building, but the other stock is taken by the Odd Fellows individually. It is estimated that 400,000 brick will be required and the contract for them will be let before long. It may be several months before the building is commenced, but it is a dead sure thing now, praise the Lord and thanks to Bro. Sine. The directors met yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers: Joseph Severance, president; J. N. Menefee, vice-president; A. C. Sine, secretary; J. B. Paxton, treasurer.

The city council is considering the question of whether it would not be better for the town to go in with other stockholders in building the water works. Many think that $20,000 is too much for the town to invest in one enterprise, while they would be perfectly willing to vote $8,000 or $10,000 towards the works. Mr. J. W. Alcorn says he has the rest of the stock secured and will enter into a contract to have the works in operation by August 1. Besides the amount that would be required for the town to build and run the water works, there are other objections to the project. The concern could not be as well managed, at least it would not be, by a set of men having no pecuniary interest, as by those who have. In nearly every instance where towns and cities have attempted to run water works, the question has been one of continual trouble, had management, rings, criminality and reclamation resulting. We are satisfied that a $10,000 investment would be more acceptable to the people and we trust Mr. Alcorn's proposition will be reconsidered and favorably acted on.

W. BALL, of Junction City, is figuring with the owners of the Carpenter House for a lease on it for the purpose of opening it to the public.

Mr. Robert Fenzel has been the proud father of an 11-pound boy since Wednesday morning, which the mother has already named for its papa.

That prince of comedians, "Uncle Joe" B. Alexander, will open up at his old stand, 7th and Market, Louisville, March 23, in great shape. See announcement in this issue.

The cold wave predicted for Tuesday went wide of the mark, but the one set for yesterday came within 10° of it, the mercury going down to 38° and a cold penetrating rain falling the most of the day. "Slightly warmer" Friday says L. H. Woodbury in the absence of Don. Greedy.

The trial of Elbert Goodin for the murder of Marshall Covert is in progress at Pineville. Goodin had in jail here a long time and came near seeing out just before being taken to his trial. He is a very bad egg and would have to hang if the people up that way believed in hanging.

W. W. Penn, traveling passenger agent, went down on 27 as flagman yesterday. Freight Conductor Bird jumped on Depot Agent White at Williamsburg and beat him around considerably, for which he was immediately discharged. Flagman Gaslin, of 24, was given his train and Mr. Penn donning the flagman's cap, went through to Louisville in good shape.

Clark Cash, of Lexington, Ky., says that W. Clark Cash, of Lincoln county, Ky., shot and instantly killed E. T. Young in that city Tuesday night. Cash walked up to his victim and said, "D—n you, you have delinquent my wife and, by heavens, you shall die." Two shots followed and Young fell to the ground. Cash then placed his smoking pistol near his victim's head and fired two more shots. The murder was of course premeditated, Cash going to Young's home, no doubt, for the express purpose of killing him. Cash claims that he had indisputable evidence to show that Young, who formerly lived in this county, was the first to lead his life astray, and murder has lurked in his heart since he made the discovery, which led to a divorce. As Mr. Cash had compromised with several other men in sums ranging from $500 to $1,000 for invaliding his marriage, it may be that Mr. Young refused to pay and lost his life instead.

Cash has always been regarded as a dangerous man and one or more killings is charged at his door. He professed religion, however, and said the Lord would not allow him to do what he would have done before—kill everybody connected with the scandal. He recently sold out his possessions here and went West, it is said to join his divorced wife.

Mr. Young was a peculiarly amiable man and was much thought of by his neighbors when he lived in this county. He married a daughter of Capt. E. J. White and she and her two children had come on to Kentucky to live and Mr. Young was to have followed in a few days. The poor wife is prostrated with the suddenness of the blow and everybody with a heart will sympathize with her.

It is the source of much gratification to have so many answers returned in so short a time and to know that our readers are likewise Biblical students. The answers range from 1858 to 1880, the one who sent the latter says he knew the Interior Journal had the largest subscription list in the country, but he did not think it was quite so extensive till proved by the Bible.
